

MOKENA MAN STRUCK BY TRAIN

BARNEY HOSTERT VICTIM OF GRADE CROSSING CRASH

Barney Hostert, of the firm of Cooper & Hostert, Ford dealers at Mokena, had a narrow escape from death Friday morning when a new Ford truck which he was driving was hit by a C. & E. I. train on a grade crossing in Chicago Heights.

Mr. Hostert was heading for Mokena with the new truck when the accident happened. When picked up by train men, Mr. Hostert was unconscious and he was rushed to the St. James hospital in Chicago Heights. When he regained consciousness he asked the hospital attendants to notify his partner Elmer Cooper of the accident and Mr. Cooper received the message shortly before dinner. He and Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Hostert rushed to the victim's bedside. The doctors found no broken bones or fracture of the skull, but did find a deep cut on the head and many cuts and bruises.

Fietterer Will Is Probated

The estate of the late Gottfried Fietterer of Mokena, valued at $20,000 was offered for probate in the Will County Probate Court the past week. The entire estate is to become the property of his widow for life.

After the death of Mrs. Fietterer the will directs that the personal estate shall become the property of the three sons, John, Michael and Carl Fietterer with the exception of the household goods which are to be the sole property of Michael. The farm land, 180 acres near Mokena, and the house in Mokena, also become the property of Michael Fietterer.

He is directed to pay $14,400 to his sisters and brothers, Mrs. Bertha Rinke, Mrs. Elinora Johnson, John and Carl Fietterer on the land and $4000 on the house. This $18,400 is to be divided equally among the four other children.

In his will, Mr. Fietterer stated that he valued the farm at $18,000 and the house at $5,000.

A Word on Local Politics

By John T. Clyne
That some of the members of the Board of Supervisors of Will County are anticipating embarrassment during the February meeting of the Board is apparent. The home folks are beginning to sharpen up their pencils for the purpose of figuring interest on $1,750,000 worth of 4 3-4 per cent bonds and, as one constituent expressed himself, the supervisors who signed the contract for the sale of the bonds before the issue was even authorized should be given a lesson in discipline and a course in mental arithmetic.

Contests are promised in every township where the election of supervisors is involved.

That Governor Emmerson is showing signs of ability to perform is demonstrated during the first week of his administration. That the Senator from this District is not out of the picture and that the legislative branch of our State Government reserves the right of self determination is evidenced by the committee assignments.

Injured In Sleigh Accident

John Ruthenbeck, aged 17 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ruthenbeck of Troy and well known to Mokena people, had his left leg broken in a rather queer accident last Saturday.

The young man and a number of his friends have a merry go round on a pond of ice and they have a sleigh tied to the merry go round. Some get on the merry go round, others push it to get it going and one gets on the sleigh. In this case John was on and a piece of the pole broke and let the sleigh loose and threw John against a fence, breaking his leg. He is in the St. Joseph hospital in Joliet.

Mokena Girl 'Quietly Married'

Miss Ruth Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Mokena, sprung a surprise on her parents and friends when she was quietly married to C. O. White of Oklahoma the past week. They have been on a trip to Wis. Miss Brown was a telephone operator at the Mokena exchange.

P. E. STEFFEN QUITTING STORE AT ORLAND

P. E. Steffen, who has been conducting a shoe and dry goods store in Orland Park for the past five years, is going out of business and is now selling out the entire stock at a big closing out sale. The sale starts Feb. 9th and runs to Feb. 23rd and some great bargains are being offered. Harry Piekarski of the National Merchandising System of Chicago is in charge of the sale.

Mr. Steffen will also sell the store building, having already listed the property with a real estate man. Mr. Steffen who is the village clerk of Orland Park and a painter, expects to put up another home in Orland Park and continue his residence there.

Mrs. Fred Geuther Passes Beyond

Mrs. Fred Geuther nee Schmuhl aged 68 years, died in her home in Frankfort Saturday afternoon at 4:25 o'clock after a long lingering illness being an invalid for the past 28 years. She bore her burden well up to the time of her death. She is survived by her husband, two sons Arthur of Frankfort, and Clemens of Pampa, Texas; two brothers, Wm. Schmuhl of Mokena and Charles Schmuhl of Joliet. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the late home to the St. Peter's Evangelical church in Frankfort with burial in the Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Rev. G. Gerhold officiated. An only daughter Edith, passed beyond 22 years ago. This was a hard blow for the deceased making her condition worse.

Mokena May Have Red Men Tribe

Plans for the establishment of a group of new tribes of the Improved Order of Red Men in Will County are under consideration by the Great Chiefs of Illinois as a special feature of the present State-wide membership campaign of the order. Will is one of the very few counties in Illinois without a local unit of Red Men and the Great Chiefs of the State regard this particular field as unusually promising in its prospects for the further expansion of the growing national fraternity. Among places under discussion for new tribes of Red Men are: Mokena, Beecher, Lockport, Plainfield, Peotone, Steger, Wilmington, Joliet, Crete, Manhattan, and Monee. The Improved Order of Red Men now has approximately 500,000 members throughout the country and is the fourth largest fraternity in the United States. It is the oldest American patriotic order and traces its origin to the Boston Tea Party of pre-Revolutionary War times. The arrangements for the new tribes of Red Men are being made through the State headquarters of the organization in Springfield.

The Town Doctor SAYS

THERE ARE THOSE WHO'LL SAY, "IT IS ALL A LOT OF BALONEY." Almost every honest endeavor to induce people to DO something for their community is branded by certain types of individuals as hot air, bunk, hokey and "It's all a lot of baloney." The fellow who starts whispering, "Tie it outside," when THINKING residents talk about the value of "boosting" is usually the fellow who goes outside the record regarding the truth when making conversation about himself. Such people are so engrossed in their own littleness that they cannot grasp THE BIGNESS of COLLECTIVE thinking.

The greatest service anyone can do for his community is to THINK about it. Let everyone think a community is GOOD and it WILL be—overnight—not in a month—nor perhaps even in a year. But THINKING it is good will create and cause ACTION that it will gradually and surely MAKE it good. On the other hand, think your town is NO good and it will be just that and nothing different!

THINKING about those things that will improve your community is not a DUTY—it's BUSINESS; therefore, it isn't a question of why you should but why SHOULDN'T you be a booster?

A booster is one who supports his town enthusiastically—one who gets BEHIND and PUSHES vigorously, consistently and PERSISTENTLY. The other fellow gets in FRONT and leans BACKWARD, or gets in the road making it tough going for the PUSHERS.

A booster is an optimist and a joy-maker; he is not a cynic nor a crape hanger.

A booster cheers; he never jeers, sneers, or hisses.

A booster sticks up for his community; he never turns up his nose at it.

A booster gives every fellow a "break"; he never dishes the dirt.

A booster says, "I'll do it for the good of the community"; not, "What do I get out of it?"

A booster admires success; he never infers, "There must be something crooked about it."

A booster says, "You bet this is a good town"; he never says, "Oh, yes, it is all right if you like it."

A booster is for anything that is good; a KICKER objects to everything good or bad.

A booster is a POSITIVE quantity a KICKER is a NEGATIVE minus.

A booster pushes and goes AHEAD; a KICKER balks, stands still and never gets anywhere.

A booster, instead of saying, "It is all a lot of baloney", says, "There may be something in that," and then THINKS about it.

You are the one to decide on which side of the fence you are going to be. Choose the side you think is for your own best interests, and then STAND UP for what you THINK.

TINLEY GARDEN CLUB TO EXHIBIT AT CHICAGO FLOWER SHOW

Members of the Tinley Park Garden Club are busily at work preparing to maintain the honor of their community in what has come to be the event of the year in suburban life a veritable tournament of gardening skill—the Chicago Garden and Flower Show.

It will be held in the Hotel Sherman, February 25 to March 3. There will be eight competitions for garden clubs, and seventy clubs will take part in them. In every center of suburban life, committees chosen for their skill are preparing exhibits for the following classes:

- 1—Luncheon table decorations, which are to be without limit on value of flowers or table furnishings.
- 2—Window boxes, either indoor or outdoors.
- 3—Miniature back-yard gardens, reproduced on scale of 1/4 inch to the foot.
- 4—Little gardens, made of living plants.
- 5—Before- and -after gardens.
- 6—Floral pictures, exhibited in shadow boxes.
- 7—Decorative arrangements of plant materials other than flowers.
- 8—Conservation posters.

The Chicago Garden and Flower Show enlists the interest of garden clubs to a greater extent than any show in the country. It is notable that every large city in the cold weather states now has a spring flower show, which is one of the outstanding events of the season. In New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Detroit, exhibitions on the same scale as the Chicago Show will be held, while in Buffalo the Society of American Florists will stage the national show, which each year is held in a different city.

In addition to the garden club competition, the Chicago show will have competitive exhibits of plants and cut flower displays by both commercial florists and private conservatories; and the great garden display, made in the exhibition hall of the Hotel Sherman, which has been each year the spectacular feature of the show. Manager John A. Servas, who is responsible for the success of the Chicago show, has designed an entirely new arrangement for this year's garden displays. He promises that as a spectacle, this section of the show will be one to live in the memory of everyone who views it.

The Tinley Park Garden Club will convene at the home of Mrs. Henry Kehres at 7:30 on February 15th.

Her Recognition

Small Elizabeth and her mother were walking down the street when they saw an urchin approaching them. Elizabeth stuck out her tongue. When they had gone on, her mother inquired "Why did you stick out your tongue at that little boy we just passed?" There was a pause while Elizabeth considered. "Why?" she replied, at length. "Why, mother, to show him I recognized him!"

TINLEY P. T. A. TO CELEBRATE

Greater service can be rendered our children through our close association with them and their daily problems and parents can seek no finer help, advice and inspiration, than that maintained in the aims and ideals of the Parent-Teachers Association.

To this end the program committee has arranged for talented speakers. At the January meeting, Dr. Phillip T. Yarrow, Supt. of the Illinois Vigilance Association, contributed wise counsel on the many problems of "Growing Up."

Our President, Mrs. Trudie Swisher, has been on the sick list, but we were glad to see her friendly smile again at our February meeting.

Mrs. Sandridge, principle of the Tinley Park School sponsored a timely program for Feb., the month of heroes, from regular school work as follows:

- America The Beautiful—Song by Grades.
- Biography of Abraham Lincoln—Marvin Vogt.
- The Toboggan Slide—Song by Upper Grades.
- Prominent Men—Millard Klepper.
- The Makers of The Flag—Evelyn Swartz.
- Illinois—Song by Upper Grades.

The program was not only interesting, but well rendered.

Lovely new flags were presented Mrs. Sandridge, Mrs. Morgan and Miss Moringstar to be used in their respective rooms.

Mrs. W. A. Hopkins, Past President of the Oak Lawn Parent Teacher Association, discussed with us in a very neighborly way many items of interest, particularly reading matter for children.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. F. Hopman and Mrs. C. Steinhagen, with a thought for Mrs. Sandridge's room.

Interesting radio programs will be broadcast over Station WMAQ, Fridays at 4:30 p. m., as follows:

- Feb. 8—Mrs. N. G. Symonds, 1st Vice-President Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, "Parent-Teacher Health Activities."
- Mrs. Walter H. Buhlig, Vice-President, Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, "Our Future in the Light of the Past."
- Feb. 15—Miss Frances Swain, Director Home Economics, Chicago Public Schools, "School Training for Home Making."
- Feb. 22—Orville T. Bright, Topic "The Backward Path of the Runaway Child."

She next regular meeting will be March 1st. Notices will be sent out for a special meeting.

THE STORY

Webster Brond, scout and spy for Braddock's army, secures valuable information at Fort Duquesne, but Braddock, trained in European warfare, fails to realize its importance. Brond is sent back to Fort Duquesne and is also entrusted with a message to Croghan, English emissary among the Indians. He is accompanied by Round Paw, friendly Indian scout. On the way they are joined by a backwoodsman, Cromit. The party comes upon a group of settlers threatening a young girl, Elsie, Dinwold, whom they accuse of witchcraft. Brond rescues her and she disappears. Brond delivers his message to Croghan. Young Col. George Washington rescues the scout from bullying English soldiers. Brond proceeds on a scouting expedition to Fort Duquesne, and finds a French scouting party besieging an old cabin in which Elsie has taken refuge. In the ensuing fight she escapes. Brond takes his way to Duquesne. Carrying out his plan to enter the fort unopposed, Brond visits an Indian town which a woman sachem, Allaquipa, controls. There he meets a French officer, Falet, who has failed in his attempt to win over Allaquipa to the French cause. Brond finds Elsie Dinwold, dressed as a man, under Allaquipa's protection. The girl tells him she has found the English cruel, and is going to the French. Unable to dissuade her, Brond tells her of his mission to Duquesne, and she promises not to betray him. They learn Beauvais has escaped from Cromit and is on his way to Duquesne. Brond realizes he must be stopped.

With a squawking cry the fellow came to a halt, and it was Cromit's voice that drawled:

"Lor's law! If it ain't Brond! I'm mortal glad to see you, mister."

"Balsar Cromit!" I exclaimed in an undertone. "Get into the bushes here, quick! There's a man coming I have business with and you'll spoil the game. How the devil did you come to be ahead of the Frenchman?"

"I proved to be the better man. So I passed him."

"You saw him? Beauvais, the Frenchman?" I gasped.

"He was behind a tree. I offered him fair fight with empty hands and the varmit tried to shoot me. We fired 'bout the same time, but it was my lead that done the tickling."

"You fought with Beauvais? You shot him?" I dully asked.

"He's feeding the fishes in the Monongahela now. Didn't know how the Injuns at the village would take it if they larned I'd killed him, so I tucked some rocks in his clothes and heaved him and the stolen gun into the river. It was a most fetching rifle. Hated like sin to heave it in."

"You've killed Beauvais the Frenchman," I repeated, hardly able to realize this sudden turn in affairs, and yet selfishly glad that the disagreeable task had not fallen to me to perform. "He's just as dead as he even can be. But he fired first. Only chance he had. Lawful life! But I'm glad to see you."

"Hush! Here comes another with a light step. This man will be red." Cromit followed me to one side behind some sugar trees. But as the newcomer turned the bend the increased light permitted me to recognize him on first sight. I relaxed my arms and whistled softly. Round Paw came down to a walk and without any hesitation swung off the path and joined us. When he beheld Cromit he grunted a soft "Yo-hah!" but otherwise showed no surprise.

"The bone-breaking man killed the Frenchman and threw him into the river," he announced. "The Wolf man did not know which was in the river till now. The bone-breaker's orenda was very good to him."

"Ding him mortally!" exploded Cromit his eyes frowning. "I wouldnt take his parole at night and he slipped the rawhide and stole the gun and ducked out. I've trailed him night and day."

"We will swing back and enter the village from the south," I said. "Did anyone see you follow him from the village?"

He chuckled and explained: "I ain't been in the village. Once I'd trailed him into it I came round to this side and waited for him to come out. I knew he'd be in a sweat to make Duquesne. No village Injun has seen me at all."

My mind was greatly relieved. I still adhered to my plan of entering the village from the south, but with Cromit appearing for the first time and with Beauvais hidden in the river Allaquipa's Delaware would know nothing of the bloody business and the road to the fort would be open to me. I proposed taking the Onondaga with me to act as express while Cromit remained in the village to relay my report back to the advancing army.

So we swung away from the path in a wide circle, the Onondaga scouting ahead to prevent our walking into any Delaware hunters. And as we traveled Cromit told me of the things he had heard and the conditions he had observed during his brief stay at the camp of the road-builders.

Captain Jack, the wild hunter of the Juniata, and his men had offered their services to Braddock at Will's creek, only to be told they must be under military discipline. The martinet had held to his decision and the truly formidable band had returned to the forest.

It is not given to any man to know how history would read had those bold and cunning rangers been received on their own terms; but I, for one, will always believe the result would have been different.

Halket and his division had started on the seventh of June, Gates with his division on the following day, and Dunbar—destined to be known as "Dunbar the Tardy"—on June tenth.

The army had moved at a snail's pace. Five miles had been a good day's march. Some days only half that distance had been covered. Because of the artillery and the many wagons it was necessary to halt and build bridges over the many creeks and make a passable road through every stretch of swamp. It resulted that the wagons and packhorses were strung out to a most dangerous length. Could the French have led their Indians beyond the Little crossing it is my belief the army would never have reached the Great crossing.

The steady salt diet had brought a general sickness to the army. I was especially sorry to learn that Colonel Washington a veteran in Western travel, had been ill for several days. The army had used up ten days in making the Little Meadows, a distance of from twenty-five to thirty miles, a good day's travel for such men as Gist and Croghan.

At that camp, a council of war had been held by the commander and all staff officers. At that council Colonel Washington had boldly urged a rapid forward movement with the light division, leaving the heavy troops to come up as best they could. Unfortunately his rank did not permit him to do more than advise, although his opinion was sought by Braddock.

It was decided at this council that St. Clair, with four hundred men, should go ahead to hurry up the road work, with Braddock, Burton, Halket and Sparks following two days later with eight hundred picked men. This decision gave great offense to Colonel Dunbar who, with Chapman and others, was left behind. Thus we had not only sickness in the army but, also, ill feeling and jealousy.

On the day Braddock left the Meadows he announced he would reach Fort Duquesne not later than June twenty-eighth. But although it was only seventeen miles to the Great crossing, this portion of the march was not covered until June twenty-fourth, making five more precious days consumed. Truth of it was the entire army was forced to mark time at the heels of St. Clair's tree-choppers.

It surprised me to learn that small bands of Indians were already harassing the army and that only strict police methods prevented a massacre. At that point in the campaign, Captain Jack and his riflemen would have been of inestimable service.

It was obvious that the army was sick and disrupted, and that the provincials were filled with forebodings as they daily looked for a fight in the woods while being tied down and hampered by absurd military restrictions. This gloomy bearing on the part of men supposed to know the ways of the Indian discouraged the regulars.

What was another inexplicable piece of folly was Braddock's failure to utilize Croghan's forty Iroquois warriors on the march. It seems that Colonel James Innes, governor at Fort Cumberland, did not wish to have any of the sixty Indian women and children left under his care during Braddock's absence. He assured the commander that eight Indians would suffice as scouts and that the rest should be directed to take their families away from the creek.

Why General Braddock should have listened to such ruinous advice is beyond any forest-runner's comprehension. Up to the time the Onondaga and I left Will's creek, it had been the commander's great desire to have as large a body of Indians accompany him as possible. He completely reversed his judgment and agreed with Innes that eight would be enough.

It was to Captain Hogg's camp of road-builders, slightly in advance of the body under Sir John St. Clair, that Cromit had taken Beauvais. While in the camp, he had been impressed by the great fear of the men. They considered it miraculous that my companion should succeed in bringing a French prisoner through the enemy's savages and into the camp.

Although he assured them that no Indians were then lurking about the camp, they were very loath to separate from one another, or to penetrate more than a short distance into the woods. False alarms were repeatedly being given, all of which slowed up the work of hewing out the road for Braddock.

While in the road-camp, Cromit had met Christopher Gist, veteran of the Ohio country, who was now acting as a scout for Braddock. On learning that Cromit was to report back to me, could he find me, Gist had supplied him with many of the facts relating to the departure of the army from the creek and its faring as far as the Great crossing.

"And that just about empties my skull," said Cromit in finishing his long recital. "I've walked soft and easy so's not to jolt anything out of my poor head. And 'tween you and me and the Monongahela that General Braddock will lick himself before the French have a chance to have a wring with him if he ain't mighty careful. If he'd send six or eight hundred riflemen ahead and turn back all his big guns and wagons, we'd have Duquesne in two shakes of a dog's tail."

"No matter how slow the army is in coming, it will reach the fort," I told him. "The French are whipped already."

He said nothing to this, and for once I found the grin missing from his homely face. I explained my plan for him to wait in Allaquipa's village and to be ready night and day to carry to the army any news that the Onondaga might bring in. The program did not please him, but his visit to Hogg's camp had impressed him with a fear that all was not going well with our cause, and he was much more amenable to reason than formerly.

Round Paw was waiting for us at the southern end of the village. To relieve Cromit from possible annoyance should he be seen in the company of an avowed supporter of the French, we agreed it was better for the Indian and me to enter the village together, while he held back for an hour. When he next saw us, he was not to recognize us.

American Children as Frenchman See Them

"American children are 'insouciant,' open-minded and gay," so writes a noted observer in Comœdia, a Paris paper, after a visit to the United States. "They work without effort, that is to say, very little. They only learn the indispensable. In the big cities many streets are reserved for them and their plays. They are safe from the life-crushing juggernauts of modern traffic. At the age of twelve an American child upholds his own opinion against that of his parents and opposes his 'reactions' to their 'reactions.' They are treated and addressed as if they were adults. At fifteen they go out to earn a living, without losing their insouciance and their gaiety. They will have known neither laziness, nor indolence. And they will die without having noticed that they have lived. Quietness and retreat in the eventide of life, preparation for death; those are unknown things in a country where death is but an insignificant detail."—Pierre Van Paassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

Mushrooms may be preserved entire by drying them in the sun or in an oven. All moisture must be removed before the material is packed in a perfectly tight container. Mushrooms so preserved, after a preliminary soaking in tepid water or milk, may be cooked as if fresh. Makes Life Sweeter Children's stomachs sour, and need an anti-acid. Keep their systems sweet with Phillips Milk of Magnesia!

When tongue or breath tells of acid condition—correct it with a spoonful of Phillips. Most men and women have been comforted by this universal sweetener—more mothers should invoke its aid for their children. It is a pleasant thing to take, yet neutralizes more acid than the harsher things too often employed for the purpose. No household should be without it.

Phillips is the genuine, prescription product physicians endorse for general use; the name is important. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. registered trade mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

OLD FOLKS SAY DR. CALDWELL WAS RIGHT

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice.

He treated constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a combination of senna and other mild herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle will last several months, and all can use it. It is pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. Elderly people find it ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

NEW SILHOUETTE ACHIEVED; FAVOR COAT WITH A FLARE

Striking Evening Dress.

WHERE the younger set is present, taffeta in bouffant styles enlivens the evening picture. One simply must be young and slender to dare the picturesque full and lengthened hemline which flares from a long-waisted bodice, as pictured here.

As one studies this lovely gown comes the conviction of a changing silhouette—which is true. The newest lines stress a molded princess basque effect, which takes on extreme fullness at a point much lower on the hipline than heretofore. Also, skirts grow longer and longer for the evening mode. However, their lines are so exquisitely modulated with sheerness and unevenness one feels in no sense that they are too long.

The evening taffetas, for which youth shows such a fondness, revel in "delicious" colorings. The gown in which Dorothy Gulliver, a rising Hollywood star if you please, poses for this picture is an exquisite nile green.

It seems that green is an outstanding favorite this season among the fashionable pastel shades. By the way, pale delicate green is as becoming to brunettes as blondes, which may account for its popularity. Crystals trim this prepossessing princess-fitted bodice outlining a V-shaped front opening. The bouffant skirt is twice scalloped, once around its taffeta edge and again about the hemline of self-colored transparent net. In selecting the new party frock do not forget that flowered taffeta is also coming into flattering notice.

In fashion's vocabulary "crisp" is a word which is acquiring considerable usage. We hear repeatedly about crisp taffeta, crisp nets, likewise stiff metal cloths. It is a fact nets and tulle are actually being processed to stand out "crisp" and lively in the making. To further the effect, fashionists style these dainty crisp silks and transparencies with flaring flounces and peplum flanges at the waistline and otherwise do they emphasize their sprightliness.

A late vogue calls for stiff or crisp fabrics made up in tailored simplicity for evening wear. Moire is one of the definitely sponsored stiff silks this season, to which is usually given a tailored styling. The colorings of the new moires are a delight to the eye. Banana shade, egg-shell and bright red are featured shades. The decollete neckline for the bodice of moire is usually extreme and severe in line. This simple decollete which is so stressed by the mode makes an admirable setting for jewels and for corsage flowers. When it comes to the skirt, one tier after another stands out in aggressive circular flares, yet they are so adjusted as to retain a slender feeling.

It's been casting its shadow before this many a day—the coat with a flare. As Paris sees it and has been seeing it for quite some time the flare's the thing! However, American women are so infatuated with the idea of straight slenderizing lines they are slow to react to the widened hemline.

Be that as it may, the flare is gradually inveigling itself into the mode. Reluctant as some may be to adopt it, fashion's whims cannot be ignored by those who would be modern.

The flared coat, it seems, as stylists explain it, is not, however, so much a caprice of the mode as it is the result of a cause and the cause is the trend to bouffancy in skirts. Acquiring as they have a multiplicity of tiers, many flounces, many drapes and numerous voluminous bows, an accommodating fullness in the wrap under which they are posed becomes a necessity. Therefore it behooves the present generation of fashion followers to study the intriguing ways of flares as latest coat modes record them.

Already it becomes apparent that there are flares and flares. Some register a circular treatment from the hips. The Paris-made coat in the picture adopts this movement. Of gray cloth is this charming sports coat and it is paneled and cuffed with gray astrakhan. Gray, by the way, is tremendously smart for coats and furs this season. With as striking a model as the coat illustrated pointing the way, even the most skeptical have cause to become converted to the idea of flares.

Not all flares are from the hips, but are achieved in various ways. Sometimes short godets from below the knee accomplish the trick. Then again definite flounce treatments are resorted to, or a low circular movement is introduced. Plaited godets are also in use for many of the French coats.

Not only is there a flair for flares in fashion's realm, but considerable interest is being expressed for fitted lines which suggest the princess silhouette. In some of the smartest coats the two combine. Semi-fitted lines to below the waistline gradually develop a flare which finally accomplishes a widened hemline. Which would warrant the prediction that coat silhouettes for spring will feature many interesting innovations.

Glen T. Beatty, Pastor
Church School 10:30 A. M.
Evening Worship 7:00 P. M.

The Ladies Aid members are very grateful for the large attendance at their oyster supper last Friday evening and wish to thank all who helped in any way. A fine program was rendered for the guests by Messrs. Tonn, Lathrop and Hirsch after which a few hymns were sung with Rev. Beatty as leader. Everyone had a good time and the evening netted the Aid something over thirty dollars.

The re-decorating at the church is finished. The ceiling was re-papered, all the woodwork and flooring painted, new shades were installed at all of the windows, the vestibule was completely renovated, the rugs were cleaned and a new covering for the pulpit provided, the Sunday School class curtain divisions were cleaned and strung on new wires throughout. We wish to thank all who helped so generously with labor, time and discounts. It is a joy to see the cleanliness of our house of God now. It adds to our delight in worship. The Sunday school, Ladies Aid paid for the work so that no additional campaign for funds has been necessary.

Our first quarterly conference with our new District Supt. Dr. L. L. Hammett, was held Sunday afternoon. Reports were made and the Superintendent outlined his plans for our district and for the various charges. We were glad to meet our new District Pastor.

Rev. Beatty will preach next Sunday evening at the usual hour. We invite you to worship with us.

THINK BEFORE YOU SHOOT

That serious trouble may come from little things and that the public is actively interested in the results of sometimes innocent vandalism is reflected in a recent announcement broadcast by G. D. Hood, Supt. of Telegraph, Rock Island Lines, Chicago:

"A boy may be shooting at birds and break an insulator on the telegraph pole; or hunter may use one as a target. The result of a broken insulator often is trouble on the line. Perhaps, it puts it out of service just when it is needed in some emergency—trains may be delayed; important information may be held up, as a call for a doctor, for example. While the cost of an insulator is only a few cents, the expense of sending out a repairman to replace it, is a great deal more than that. Such expenses are losses and add to the cost of service. Think before you shoot."

"Be Sure to Write Once in a While"

THESE were once the parting words when friends moved to another city—in times when a separation of a few miles equalled a hundred today.

Out-of-town telephoning was a novelty then. So most of us were content with an occasional letter.

How different today! A town a hundred miles away on the map is only a minute or so away by telephone. And places even farther off—Boston, New York, Denver, New Orleans, cities and towns across the sea—they, too, are next door by telephone. Yet out-of-town telephoning costs very little.

Are YOU letting the telephone help keep alive the spirit of friendship with those living or visiting in other places? Use it today instead of writing that letter you owe. You'll be surprised how easy it is—how quickly you get your number—how little it costs—how satisfying it is.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

One Policy - One System - Universal Service

There are many reasons for the ease of steering the new Ford

THE new Ford is exceptionally easy to steer because of the well-proportioned weight of the car, the steel-spoke wheels, the co-ordinated design of springs and shock absorbers, the size and design of the steering wheel, and the simple mechanical construction of the steering gear.

The Ford steering gear is of the worm and sector type used on high-priced cars and is three-quarter irreversible.

In simple, non-technical language, this means that the car responds easily and quickly to the steering wheel, yet there is no danger of the wheel being jerked from the hands of the driver by ruts or bumps in the road. A light touch guides the car, yet you always have that necessary feel-of-the-road so essential to good driving.

Strength of materials and careful workmanship give unusual stability to the Ford steering gear and housing.

The steering worm, for instance, is splined to the steering worm shaft and is stronger, of course, than if a single key were used to hold the shaft and worm together. The steering worm sector is forged and machined in the same piece with its shaft.

The housing of the steering gear mechanism is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together. This housing is then electrically welded to the steering column. Such a one-piece steel unit is naturally much sturdier than if several parts were used and bolted or riveted together.

Throughout, the new Ford steering mechanism is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no attention.

The only thing for you to do is to have the front steering spindles, spindle connecting rods, and drag link lubricated every 500 miles and the steering gear lubricated every 2000 miles.

For this work, you will find it best to consult the Ford dealer. He has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

MORNING AND AFTERNOON

The blouse and skirt are becoming more and more essential to the well-chosen wardrobe. The scarf of this blouse is stitched to the right-front and the end hangs free. Made in fine jersey, lightweight flannel, or soft tweed, the ensemble is correct for morning wear. It will be noted the scarf repeats the color note of the skirt.

For the matinee or afternoon the frock at right when made of printed silk or taffeta is very smart. A chic flare is achieved by cutting away the skirt at the left side and inserting a section with three circular flounces. Bows form decorative trimming.

First Model: Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 4582. Sizes 14 to 18 years, 34 to 46 bust. Skirt No. 4417. Sizes 14 to 18 years, 34 to 46 bust. Each 35 cents.

MESSANGER SERVICE ON TELEPHONE CALLS

Arrangements Can Be Made to Have Non-subscriber Come to Nearest Telephone

Oftentimes a person would like to talk by telephone to some other party in a distant town or city, but feels that this is impossible because the party desired does not have a telephone.

The Bell System has provided for just such emergencies by a class of Long Distance service which is known as the messenger call type. In such cases, one can put in a call on a person-to-person basis for a party who has no telephone or who cannot be reached by telephone. Such service is known as the messenger call service, and all that is necessary for the telephone company to do is to arrange for a messenger to notify the person desired to come to the telephone. The rates for such messenger calls are necessarily a little higher for person-to-person calls, to which the charge for messenger service must be added, but this extra charge is more than compensated for by the ability to talk direct with the party desired, especially in cases of emergencies.

There are more than 14,000,000 Bell-owned telephones and more than 6,000 Bell-owned central offices in the Bell System, besides more than 4,600,000 connecting telephones and more than 13,000 central offices independently owned.

Hermit's Cells Remain

The mountains near the city of Jericho, says one who explored many of them, "are absolutely honeycombed by the cells of ancient anchorites and hermits from top to bottom." Some of these contain frescoes and inscriptions of much interest, dating back to the earliest years of the Christian era.

Light up....for health!

AT STUDY and at play, children's eyes must be protected. They need enough light and the right kind of light. Gloom and glare are equally dangerous. Defective vision, aggravated by poor light, handicaps one-fourth of all the children in American schools. For your children's sake—and also for your own comfort and health—be sure the light is right.

The History of John J. Doherty's Case

"Three years ago I took a severe cold, putting me directly to bed. After a month's treatment for pleurisy my physician was baffled by the action of my fever or temperature, which was high one day and low the next, and while he tried different prescriptions, I didn't improve any, but slowly became weaker.

"The doctor finally decided to tap me by running a needle-like instrument into the left side of my back and between the ribs, to ascertain if pus was forming in my left lung. The tapping resulted in the withdrawal of a small quantity of pus and the doctor said it was forming so fast that I must have an operation to extract and draw out the pus. At the time my heart pained me terribly because it was three inches out of place, due to the pressure of the fast-accumulating pus.

"I was ordered to the hospital for an immediate operation or I would be a dead man in 36 hours. The next morning the surgeon removed one inch of two ribs in the back, forming a square cavity to remove the pus, which squirted eight feet from the table. About two quarts was removed. A rubber tube was then inserted in the cavity to the lung for a drain, which took about three weeks to perfectly drain and heal the cavity.

"The doctors told me that I had to take all precautions possible, as I was subject to easily capturing tubercular germs, due to the weakness of my lungs. For one whole year I used several kinds of tonic and lung medicines and didn't improve much from weakness.

"Then I began the use of Milk Emulsion and after a month's trial I found myself with increasing appetite and gaining strength, and today I have regained my natural weight and strength and feel completely myself. And the joy of it is, after using all of the Milk Emulsion that I did it didn't form a habit. I haven't used any for a month now and I feel at my best. I am 48 years of age and weigh 180 pounds.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for your wonderful preparation." Yours truly, JOHN J. DOHERTY, Odanah, Wis.

Simple Radio Outfit

Maine can match the achievement of a California woman in receiving a radio concert from a saucerpan on her electric range. A farmer living in Greenwood at the junction of two roads, with the telephone wires making a Y, a prong of the letter running each side of his house, gets free radio in that way. He has a hole about the size of a plate cut in the door of his cottage, covered with a wooden patch for use when not "receiving." Evenings he opens the door and through the aperture floats all sorts of entertainment. While he is denied the power of selection, he is never troubled with static.

Capitol Press Gallery

At the session of the Forty-fifth congress, in 1877, there were only 112 newspaper men in the press galleries of the capitol. Today, half a century later, there are 306 men credited to the press galleries.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Directors of various state departments are busily engaged in checking up on surplus help and preparing to submit their reports to Gov. Louis L. Emmerson, in accordance with a clean-up letter which he recently issued. The governor has directed that all help not needed be dismissed from the state service and it is probable that a number of persons on the pay-rolls will be dismissed soon. Developments of the last few days indicate that the provisions of the administrative code will be adhered to during the Emmerson administration.

The most recent economy move on the part of departmental directors has been made by Leo H. Lowe, recently appointed director of trade and commerce. Twelve employees have been eliminated from the division of insurance of this department. The saving to the state in this one department alone will be over $15,000.

Forest fires in Illinois burned more than 4,700 acres of timber in 1928. R. B. Miller, chief forester of the department of conservation, has reported to E. Murray Butler of Louisville, Ky., district fire inspector for the U. S. Forest reserve. Mr. Miller's report reviewed Illinois' first year's work in forest fire prevention. Co-operation with the United States Forest service started in 1927. Harry H. Cleveland, Rock Island, has been appointed director of public works and buildings by Governor Emmerson. Mr. Cleveland, who succeeds Col. C. R. Miller, is president of the Central Trust and Savings bank of Rock Island, has probably the largest insurance business on the west side of Illinois, and is a large landowner.

Governor Emmerson has announced that Frank T. Sheets, chief state highway engineer, will remain in his position to continue directing the state's road construction program. Mr. Sheets, who is in charge of the technical part of road work, has been in the highway department for a number of years. He is a graduate of the civil engineering school of the University of Illinois and is a member of both the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Illinois Society of Engineers.

A decrease of $43,782,717 in the total taxes collected by the government in the calendar year 1928 was shown by figures recently released. The total tax collections from all sources in Illinois in 1928 was $224,853,133.98.

Charles Herrick Hammond, Chicago, has been selected by Governor Emmerson to replace William J. Lindstrom as state supervising architect. Mr. Hammond is president of the American Institute of Architects, the leading organization of its kind in America. He is a member of the firm of Perkins, Chatten and Hammond, conservative Chicago architects.

The history of Illinois college, Jacksonville, by President Charles H. Rammelkamp, which has been published this year as a part of the centennial celebration of that institution, is a very valuable contribution to the history of Illinois and the Middle West, as well as a fascinating picture of life in the pioneer days of this state. The account is a microcosm of the whole process by which higher education developed in the Middle West and as such inevitably becomes a parital, at least, interpretation of its cultural make-up today. President Rammelkamp has vividly chronicled the mishaps and difficulties, the ever-present financial worry, the anti-slavery controversies, which conditioned the early life of the college. In contrast to all this he shows the triumphs and indomitable growth and incalculable influence the institution had even in its blackest days. The book will stand, to American history students, as the epitome of the rise of education in the prairie countries.

Representative George C. Dixon of Dixon has offered a bill in the house which would provide for an extension of the absentee voters' law to include invalids and others kept away from the polls on account of illness. The objection to some of the bills for this purpose is that the law would be used for fraudulent purposes but Mr. Dixon has included a provision whereby an invalid or sick person would be required to file an affidavit of a physician. As the absent voters' law is now it relates only to those who are absent from their home county on business although it is quite generally used promiscuously by anyone who is away for any purpose. In this bill Mr. Dixon has provided that anyone who is absent from his county may vote under its provision.

Judge Harry Higbee, circuit and appellate court judge in Illinois for thirty years and state senator for four terms, died at his home in Pittsfield, Pike county, a few days ago. Judge Higbee was born in Pike county, and was graduated from Yale university in 1875. He won his law degree at Columbia university the following year. He was state senator in the thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth general assemblies from 1888 to 1896. He was a former president of the state bar association.

Gov. Louis L. Emmerson will head the delegation from Illinois that will witness the inauguration of President-Elect Herbert Hoover on March 4. Mr. Emmerson, other state officials, members of the house and senate and other party leaders will make the trip to Washington aboard an inaugural special, probably over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which will leave Springfield, February 28, and return March 5. According to the tentative arrangements the trip to Washington and return will be made without missing a single legislative day. Adj. Gen. Carlos E. Black is in charge of the arrangements for Illinois. Already 200 reservations have been made for the trip.

Governor Emmerson has received resignations from the following that were not reported last week: E. E. Crabtree, Jacksonville, as a member of the state highway advisory board. Dr. Thomas B. Doan, Palmyra, and Mrs. E. N. Monroe, Quincy, as members of the board of public health advisers. Judge Joel Churchill Fitch, as county judge of Edwards county, who is to go into Attorney General Carlstrom's office to replace his brother, the late Edward C. Fitch.

Cattle on feed on farms in Illinois are eight per cent more numerous than a year ago, while sheep have increased a third over the same period last year, according to a joint report just issued by the United States and Illinois departments of agriculture.

A resolution has been offered by Representative Weber, Chicago, asking for a committee of seven members to investigate ways and means of obtaining an airport along the Chicago lake front, to be completed in time for the World's fair to be held there in 1933. The committee will co-operate with the Illinois Central railroad, the South Park board and the city council of Chicago in furthering plans. Expenses for the committee's work are to be taken from the contingent fund of the house.

Hugh Luckey of Potomac has introduced a bill in the legislature which would specify that all paper used by the state be manufactured from cornstalks. At present there is one company in Illinois manufacturing pulp from cornstalks. It is the Cornstalk Products company, located in Danville. The pulp is manufactured into paper by the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment company of Kalamazoo, Mich.

With a comparatively light civil and criminal docket, the February session of the state Supreme court will convene within the next few days. A large number of cases are on the advisement docket and opinions in some of them probably will be handed down February 19 when the term may end. Frederic R. DeYoung, Chicago, is the presiding justice.

Setting a new record for time in selecting committees, Speaker David E. Shanahan has announced the list of committee assignments and the necessary organization work is now well under way. Only twenty days was consumed in the task, the shortest space in time consumed at a session in which there was inauguration of state officers. Former Speaker Scholes turned the trick in the same time, but it was when the installation of officers did not interfere.

Representative Charles D. Franz of Freeport has offered a bill to compel motor busses and trucks from other states using Illinois highways to carry Illinois licenses.

Director Rodney Brandon of the state department of public welfare has announced that Col. Frank Whipp, managing officer of the Illinois school for the deaf at Jacksonville, has been named acting assistant director of the department. Colonel Whipp will remain until the program of the department has been worked out and will also remain in charge of the Jacksonville institution and will come to Springfield each day. Before going to the Jacksonville school, Colonel Whipp was in charge of the St. Charles School for Boys and prior to that time was fiscal supervisor in the department of welfare. He is familiar with all divisions of that department.

A resolution proposing that the question of calling a constitutional convention be submitted to the people at the next general election has been offered by Representative Frederick W. Rennie of Buda. He called attention to the need for a complete revision of the constitution, which has not been done since 1870. His resolution has been submitted to the judiciary committee.

Representative Walker of Joliet has proposed a tax for chain stores. Representative Gaines of Chicago has suggested a jury trial for persons accused of contempt of court and to raise the amount of petit larceny from $15 to $100.

In Illinois through places associated with the life of Abraham Lincoln before he became President, is proposed in a bill introduced in congress recently by Senator Charles S. Deneen of Illinois. The measure would create a Lincoln highway memorial commission, composed of the secretary of war as chairman, and the secretaries of agriculture and the treasury. It would provide for a survey of the best route for a road connecting Charleston and Farmington, through Shiloh cemetery and other places in Coles county.

Lesson for February 10

REPENTANCE AND FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 2:32-39; Luke 15:11-24.

GOLDEN TEXT—Repent ye, and believe in the gospel.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Boy Who Was Sorry.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Boy Who Was Sorry.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Turning From Sin to God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Way to Forgiveness.

I. Jesus Is Lord and Christ (Acts 2:32-39).

In order to induce repentance and faith, Jesus must be presented as both Lord and Christ. The presentation of Jesus as even the unusual son of Joseph and Mary will not convict of sin. One reason for the vanishing sense of sin is the failure of ministers and Sunday School teachers to declare the Lordship and Messiahship of Jesus of Nazareth. Peter proved Jesus to be Lord and Christ by

1. The miracles which He wrought (Acts 2:22).

He performed before the very eyes of the people such mighty deeds as to demonstrate His Lordship.

2. His resurrection from the dead (Acts 2:24-32).

By His resurrection He was declared to be the Son of God with power (Rom. 1:4). His resurrection was at tested by many witnesses.

3. The outpouring of the Spirit (Acts 2:15-21).

Peter declared that the coming of the Spirit on Pentecost was the fulfillment of Joel's prophecy.

II. Repent and Believe the Gospel (Acts 2:37-39).

Peter's gospel message convicted the Jews of their sins. When they cried out, he commanded them to repent and be baptized. The evidence of their faith in Christ was manifested in their conviction of sin, and their penitence was shown in their confession of Christ in baptism.

III. The Forgiving God (Luke 15:11-24).

The center of things in this parable is not the prodigal son, nor his brother, but the "certain man who had two sons." This narrative is a most picturesque and dramatic portrayal of the history of man from his fall to his reconciliation with God.

1. The son's insubordination (v. 12).

He became tired of the restraints of home. His desire for freedom moved him willfully to choose to leave home—to throw off the constraint of his father's rule. Sin is the desire to indulge selfish purposes, free from the restraint of rightful authority.

At the request of the son, the father "divided unto them his living." Man is a free being. God has committed unto man his own destiny.

2. The son's departure (v. 13).

Having made the fateful decision, he immediately sought the fulfillment of his cherished purpose. The son could not now endure the presence of his father, so he gathered all together and hastened away. When the sinner casts off allegiance to God, he takes all that he has with him.

3. The son's degeneration (vv. 13, 14).

He had a good time while his money lasted, but the end came quickly. From plenty in his father's house to destitution in a far country was a short journey.

4. The son's degradation (vv. 15, 16).

His money exhausted, he was driven to hire himself to a citizen to feed swine. It is ever so. Those who will not serve God are made slaves to the devil to do his bidding (Rom. 6:16). In his shame and disgrace he could not get necessary food.

5. The son's restoration (vv. 17-24).

(1) He came to himself (v. 17). Reflection made him conscious that though he had wronged his father and ruined himself, he was still his father's son.

(2) His resolution (v. 18).

Memory's picture of his home, where even the hired servants had a superabundance, moved him to make a decision to leave the far country and go home.

(3) His confession (vv. 18, 19).

He acknowledged that his sin was against heaven and his father, that he had forfeited his right to be called a son, and begged to be given a place as a hired servant.

(4) His action (v. 20).

Resolution does not avail unless accompanied with action. When the confession is genuine, action will follow (vv. 20-24).

So anxious was he for him that he ran to meet him and fell upon his neck and kissed him.

Why Judge Thy Brother?

Why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at naught thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ. For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.—Rom 14:10, 11.

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

Stimulating Values of Colors.
A French experimenter tested the strength of the handgrip under colored lights, and found red was distinctly the most stimulating color, the remaining colors falling in the order: Orange, yellow, green, blue, violet.

Glorious Contemplation
An English parliamentary candidate wound up a frenzied oration as follows: "Gentlemen, the glorious victory which will swamp our opponents when the eve of the election dawns upon us will reach us in words of gold through the corridors of time, until the last grand-trump shall sound through the valleys on the mountains."

Founder Guillotined
Lavoisier, the founder of modern chemistry, was in 1794 sentenced to death and guillotined by the Revolutionary tribunal because he had, under the king, held the post of farmer general of the revenue.

HELEN KELLER LAUDS BELL AS FRIEND OF DEAF

Blind and Deaf Marvel Recalls Girlhood Association with Telephone Inventor

Helen Keller, in her recent address before the Telephone Pioneers at Boston, said that Alexander Graham Bell had been her oldest friend. She met him when, to use her own language, she "was a wild, unhappy little creature six years old, without language and without knowledge." Her father had taken her to Baltimore to see if a distinguished oculist could do anything with her eyes, and this oculist, in turn, finding that nothing could be done, had suggested that she be taken to Washington to see Dr. Bell, who might be able to suggest a way in which she could be taught.

From that time on, Alexander Graham Bell became one of her greatest heroes, and because of the interest he took in the little girl, a new vision of the world was opened up to her. Miss Keller says that she and her teacher saw Dr. Bell often, not only in Washington, D. C., but at his summer home in Nova Scotia, and in Boston. She adds:

"One evening when we were waiting for a street car beside a telephone pole, he placed my hand on the weather-smoothed wood and said, 'Feel? what do the vibrations mean to you—anything?' I had never put my hand on a pole before. He told me that the humming which I felt in my fingers never stopped, that the copper wires up above us were carrying the news of birth and death, war and finance, failure and success from station to station around the world.

"It was not long before I learned that the telephone is one of the most far-reaching achievements of our time, but it is not the fact that Dr. Bell was a great inventor that gives him a living hold upon my heart today. What makes him precious to me is the fact that all his life he loved the deaf and tried in every way to break down their prison walls and place them in touch with the pleasant social ways of mankind. No matter what else occupied his mind he never forgot that the chief end and aim of his life was to teach the deaf, especially to teach them speech. You who see and hear may not realize that the teaching of speech to the deaf—even imperfect speech like mine—is one of the divinest miracles of the nineteenth century. No one did more to produce this miracle than Dr. Bell."

VETERAN SWITCHBOARD GETS WELL EARNED REST

After twenty-seven years of service, the pioneer telephone switchboard of the Police Department in Washington, D. C., has been honorably retired. The board was installed when the tape system of receiving reports from patrol boxes was abandoned, and during its twenty-seven years of existence it is estimated that it has received more than 1,000,000 calls, including the first intimation of some of the famous crimes in the history of the city. This old board had a code of numbers which popped into view instead of the modern lights on modern switchboards. It is to be replaced by a new, better, thoroughly modern and having twice the capacity of the old one.

Modern in Design And Construction

AN interesting and attractive new radio receiving set just offered the public is the product of the National Carbon Company, known to millions of radio fans as the maker of Eveready Batteries and sponsors of the "Eveready Hour" broadcasting program.

The Eveready model pictured above is made of die-cast aluminum, a new material in receiving set construction. It carries the more modernistic motif of interior decoration. Much of the attractiveness of the new aluminum set comes from the fact that it takes a lacquer in a surprising and pleasing fashion. Its selection as material for one of the Eveready radio cabinets was decided upon not only because of its handsome and unusual appearance, but also because it was found well adapted for receiving purposes. It is established that sudden changes in temperature and atmospheric moisture do not affect the aluminum cabinet.

This newest type of radio receiver is accompanied by a loud speaker of the same material, made in a design to conform with the striking and handsome appearance of the set itself.

EMERGENCY POWER FOR CENTRAL OFFICES

New Type Gasoline Engine
Improvements in internal combustion engines used in telephone central offices to supply power in cases of failure of the regular supply have recently been made. It has long been the practice of telephone engineers to provide internal combustion engines for emergency use in all exchange buildings dependent on a single outside source of power. This provision, along with the regular storage battery, has been sufficient to provide continuous power supply, and central offices generally throughout the country have given service even during periods of storm, fire and other calamities.
The new emergency engines are made in two types, the smaller one having four cylinders and producing 25 horsepower. The second type is made in two sizes, one of four cylinders producing 50 horsepower and one of six cylinders producing 75 horsepower. The 50 horsepower size is illustrated above. A third type is being designed to complete the series, producing 100 horsepower in the four-cylinder size and 150 horsepower in the six-cylinder size. The two types now ready have high tension magnetos and water cooling.

Bird Migration
The reason why birds migrate is a mystery to biologists. They have been studying for hundreds of years to find out and are as much in the dark today as they were 200 years ago, according to Dr. Alexander Wetmore, president of the American Ornithological union.

Folly of Fashion
"So great was the weight of the elaborately padded garments worn by men in England during the reign of Henry the Eighth," points out Frederick Tisdale in an article in Liberty, "that a bench was built along the house of parliament so the fainting dandies could rest their matted thighs."

Polar Region Cold
Theoretically it can never get much colder than 60 degrees below zero at the North pole, which lies in deep ocean. The cold pole of the northern hemisphere, far from coinciding with the North pole, is believed to be on the continent of Asia north of Irkutsk, where the temperature is said occasionally to fall to 90 degrees below zero F.

When Royalty Talked to Royalty

Spanish Visitors to U. S. A. Converse With King Alfonso at Madrid

His Majesty, the King of Spain, was the first European ruler to make use of the transatlantic radio telephone service, King Alfonso having talked with President Coolidge at the time service between Spain and the United States was inaugurated. Evidently, His Majesty enjoyed the experience, as he has had another talk across the ocean since then, this time with his first cousin,
